

Giuseppe Vaciago is a lawyer and a member of the Milan Bar since 2002, and for the last ten years his primary focus has been “white collar” crime and data protection issues. He has assisted many national and international IT companies including Google and Procter & Gamble. He is currently a partner at R&P Legal. Holding a PhD in Digital Forensics, he has taught Information Technology Law for several years at the University of Milan and the University of Insubria (Varese and Como). He has been visiting scholar at Fordham Law School and Stanford Law School (Centre for Internet and Society). He is a fellow member of the Cybercrime Institute, the Nexa Center and is a co-founder of the Tech and Law Center of Milan and a member of the Editorial Board of Digital Investigation Journal. He has authored many publications on cybercrime and digital forensics, including both scientific journals and textbooks, which have been adopted by the University of Milan. Among them: Digital Forensics, Italian Criminal Procedure and Due Process Rights in the Cyber Age (2012) and “Social Media and Big Data” (in Cyberterrorism Investigator’s Handbook, 2014).