

Michele Bocchiola is Senior Researcher and Lecturer at the University of Geneva. Previously, he held research positions at the University of Pavia, Luiss University of Rome, and the University of the Witwatersrand (Johannesburg, SA), where he also taught ethics and political philosophy. His researches interests include the relation between personal privacy and data ownership, the ethics of anti-corruption and normative theories of institutional accountability and trustworthiness.

Uğur Bulgan holds a BA in Political Science and International Relations from Istanbul University and an MA in World Politics and International Relations from the University of Pavia. He is currently a PhD candidate in Political Theory at the University of Milan. His research interests include terrorism, just war theory, transitional justice and recognition theory.

Mario De Caro is Professor of Moral philosophy at Roma Tre University and regularly a Visiting professor at Tufts. He was Fulbright fellow at Harvard, Visiting Scholar at MIT, and President of the Italian Society for Analytic Philosophy; presently he is vice-president of the Consulta Nazionale di Filosofia. He is Hilary Putnam's literary executor and the author of Azione (il Mulino, 2008), Il libero arbitrio (Laterza, 2020<sup>9</sup>), Realtà (Bollati Boringhieri, 2020). With Maria Silvia Vaccarezza he edited Practical Wisdom (Routledge 2020); with David Macarthur he edited Naturalism in Question (Harvard University Press, 2004) and Naturalism and Normativity (Columbia University Press, 2010), and is working on the monograph Liberal Naturalism (Harvard University Press).

Giunia Gatta teaches political philosophy and human rights at Bocconi University in Milan. Her research interests draw her to the side of politics that resists rationalization. She has thought this dark side through with authors from both side of the Atlantic Ocean: Judith Shklar, Karl Jaspers, Hannah Arendt, and Albert Camus. Her articles on suffering, empathy, fear, and populism have been published on Philosophy and Social Criticism, Contemporary Political Theory, Storia del Pensiero Politico, Global Intellectual History, and Political Science Reviewer. She is also the author of Rethinking Liberalism for the 21st Century: The Skeptical Radicalism of Judith Shklar (Routledge 2018).

Giacomo Marossi received his PhD in political philosophy from the University of Piemonte Orientale (FINO Consortium). His main research areas are analytical moral and political philosophy with a particular interest in methodological analysis and metaethics. His late research has focused on the normative relation between populism and political representation.

Federico Gustavo Pizzetti is Full Professor of Public Law at the University of Milan, where he also teaches Biolaw. He is Vicedirector of the Department of International, Legal and Historical-Political Studies. He has written more than 140 publications (among which, 8 books). He is President of the Italian Society of Neuroethics and Philosophy of Neuroscience, and a member of the International Forum of Teachers in Bioethics, medical ethics and medical law, UNESCO Chair in Bioethics; of the European Association of Health Law; and of the Italian Association of Constitutional Lawyers. He is affiliated of The Initiative on Neuroscience and the Law Project, Houston Baylor College of Medicine. His research areas are about the End-of-Life Decisionmaking Law and the Constitutional Law and Neurosciences.

Francesca Pongiglione is Assistant professor (RTD-B) at the University Vita-Salute San Raffaele, Milano, where she teaches Social Philosophy, Anthropology, Culture and Human Rights, and Ethics and Ecosystems. She has worked and published extensively on environmental ethics, human rights and migration. She has recently started to focus on culpable ignorance. Among her most recent publications: "False credenze e colpevolezza nei contesti sociali reali e virtuali” (Sistemi Intelligenti, vol. XXXIII, n. 2, pp. 245-261) and “Climate Change and Human Rights”, in M. Di Paola, G. Pellegrino (eds), Handbook of the Philosophy of Climate Change, Springer (forthcoming).

