

Marco Mainenti is Post-doc researcher at the Department of Social and Political Sciences, University of Milan, and managing editor of Italian Political Science Review/Rivista Italiana di Scienza Politica. His research interests include the regulation of competition policy in the European Union, with a special focus on state aid and merger control.