

Rainer Bauböck is part time Professor in the Global Governance Programme of the Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies at the European University Institute in Florence. From 2007-2018 he held the chair in Social and Political Theory at the Department of Political and Social Sciences of the European University Institute. He is corresponding member of the Austrian Academy of Sciences and chair of the Academy's Commission on Migration and Integration Research. His research interests are in normative political theory and comparative research on democratic citizenship, European integration, migration, nationalism and minority rights. Together with Jo Shaw (University of Edinburgh) and Maarten Vink (University of Maastricht), he coordinates GLOBALCIT, an online observatory on citizenship and voting rights.

Enrico Biale is Research Fellow at the University of Piemonte Orientale. His main research interests are in the normative theory of democracy and in the theory of justice in labour market. Among his most recent publications: Interessi democratici e ragioni partigiane. Una concezione politica della democrazia, Bologna, il Mulino, 2018; Democracy and Diversity, with Anna Elisabetta Galeotti e Federica Liveriero (eds), London, Routledge, 2018; "A fluid demos for a hypermigration polity", in Res Publica, 2017; "A multidimensional account of democratic legitimation: How to make robust decision in a non-idealized deliberative context" (with Federica Liveriero), in Critical Review of International Social and Political Philosophy, 2017.

Francesco Camboni achieved a MA in Philosophy at the University Vita-Salute San Raffaele in Milan, with a thesis entitled Communication, Justice and Solidarity. An interpretation of Habermas' Discourse Ethics. He is currently a PhD student at the FINO Consortium (Northwestern Italian Philosophy Consortium). His research project aims to develop an analytical account of solidarity. His area of interests concerns discourse ethics, social justice and other-regarding attitudes.

Valeria Ottonelli is Associate Professor of Political Philosophy at the University of Genova, Italy. Her main research interests are in the normative theory of democracy and in the theory of justice in migration. Her work has appeared in Political Studies, The Journal of Political Philosophy, Critical Review of Social and Political Philosophy, International Migration Review and Politics, Philosophy and Economics.

Gianfranco Pellegrino is Associate Professor of Political Philosophy at the Department of Political Science, Luiss Guido Carli. His research concerns global justice, environmental ethics, migration and history of political philosophy and ethics. He wrote three monographs (La fabbrica della felicità. Etica, liberalism e psicologia in Jeremy Bentham, 2010; Etica pubblica, 2015; Nell'Antropocene. Etica e politica alla fine di un mondo, 2018, with Marcello Di Paola), and articles on climate change, refugees, global justice, human rights.