

Virginia Sanchini, Ph.D., is specialized in moral philosophy and bioethics. She holds a Bachelor degree in Philosophy (at the University Vita-Salute San Raffaele, dissertation on The Imperative of Responsibility by Hans Jonas) and a Master degree in Philosophy (at the University Vita-Salute San Raffaele, dissertation on the relationship between the two Kantian foundational attempts within the Metaphysics of Morals and the Critique of Practical Reason). She got a Ph.D scholarship at the European School of Molecular Medicine, European Institute of Oncology and University of Milan, in Foundations of The Life Sciences And Their Ethical Consequences (Folsatec). Her doctoral work has focused on public deliberation within the context of public bioethics, models of ethics consultation, informed consent and its alternatives within the setting of research biobanks. She also teaches bioethics at Liceo Classico di Ricerca San Raffaele (in Milan) and is involved, together with Prof. Massimo Reichlin, in the direction of the bioethics unit of the Centro di Studi di Etica Pubblica (Cesep) of the University Vita-Salute San Raffaele. Amongst her publications: "The Ethics of Non-Inferiority Trials" (together with M. Annoni and C. Nardini) on Research Ethics, "Informed consent as an ethical requirement in clinical trials: an old, but still unresolved issue. An observational study to evaluate patient's informed consent comprehension" (together with M. Reni, G. Calori, E. Riva, M. Reichlin) on The Journal of Medical Ethics, "A trusted-based pact in research biobanks. From theory to practice" (together with G. Bonizzi, M. Monturano, S. Pece, G. Viale, P.P. Di Fiore, G. Boniolo), on Bioethics.
