

Antonio Florida has worked for a long time in an institute of social research, dealing with public policy analysis, political sociology and electoral studies. Since 2005 he has directed the Sector “Policies for Citizens Participation” and the Electoral Observatory of Tuscany. He has teaching assignments at the University of Florence; and was President of Italian Society of Electoral Studies (2014-2017). He has published numerous essays and books on policy analysis, electoral studies, participatory and deliberative democracy. Among his most recent publications, see the volumes La democrazia deliberativa. Teorie, processi e sistemi (Roma, 2012); Un’idea deliberativa della democrazia (Bologna, 2017); From Participation to Deliberation. A Critical Genealogy of Deliberative Democracy (Colchester, 2017); Un partito sbagliato. Democrazia e organizzazione nel Partito Democratico (Roma, 2019); and the chapters “The origins of the Deliberative Turn”, within The Oxford Handbook of Deliberative Democracy (Oxford, 2018), and “Participatory Democracy and Deliberative Democracy”, within the Annale Feltrinelli 2019 (forthcoming) on “The Future of Democracy” (edited by N. Urbinati and M. Battini).