

Francesco Testini is a Ph.D. Student in Political Studies at the Department of Social and Political Sciences of the University of Milan. He works on several methodological and foundational issues in political philosophy, with a focus on the relevance of empirical insights for normative inquiries. He spent research periods abroad at the University of Oxford and the University of Southampton. His contributions appeared in journals such as Parliamentary Affairs, The European Journal of Political Theory and Res Publica.